If you are not an ICMC member and you create an account for this purpose, you will be required to provide certain information as part of your account registration, including your first and last name, email address, and business or home address and professional information. Demographic data might be collected anonymously for statistics purposes and donor reports. You may manage your ICMC subscriptions by subscribing or unsubscribing at any time. ICMC will collect your test results and your record of participation in continuing professional education.

Communications with ICMC: If you communicate or correspond with us by email, through postal mail, via phone or through other forms of communication, we may collect the information you provide as part of those communications. For example, if you correspond with us through email, we may collect and store the email address you use to send the applicable correspondence and use it to respond to your inquiry; to notify you of ICMC conferences, publications, or other services; or to keep a record of your inquiry.

This grant of rights in the works also includes the rights to adapt, reproduce, distribute, perform, make available to the public, broadcast, retransmit or sublicense the works to ICMC's affiliates. This grant of rights in the works also includes all current and future media and is not restricted to time or territory.

Job Applicants. If you use our Roster portal or the Vacancy Page, the information you include in your profile will be shared with our Donor and will be subject to the Donor's privacy policies. ### Transferring Personal Data from the EU to the US:

ICMC has its headquarters in Geneva, Switzerland. ICMC Inc. has its headquarters in the United States. Information we collect from you in US will be processed in the United States. The United States has not sought nor received a finding of “adequacy” from the European Union under Article 45 of the GDPR). A finding of “adequacy” in short means that the European Commission has decided that this country outside the EEA ensures an adequate level of data protection. ICMC relies on derogations as set forth in Article 49 of the GDPR as the United States has no “adequacy” decision and no other safeguards under the GDPR are in place (for example binding corporate rules on the transfer outside the EEA). In particular, ICMC collects and transfers to the U.S. personal data only: with your explicit consent; to perform a contract with you; in a manner that does not outweigh your rights and freedoms. If this data is not processed and transferred, ICMC will not be able to execute the contract with you or you will not have access to any or all of the benefits and features associated with your transaction. ICMC endeavors to apply suitable safeguards to protect the privacy and security of your personal data and to use it only consistent with your relationship with ICMC and the practices described in this Privacy Notice. You may also request that ICMC cease using your data for direct marketing purposes. In many countries (including EEA countries), you have a right to lodge a complaint with the appropriate data protection authority if you have concerns about how ICMC processes your personal data. When technically feasible, ICMC will—at your request—provide your personal data to you or transmit it directly to another controller.
